GRAMMAR SKILLS

- 1 Read the passage and answer the questions:
 Swami went to school feeling that he was the worst liar on earth. His conscience bothered him: he wasn't at all sure if he had been accurate in his description of Samuel. He could not decide how much of what he had said was imagined and how much of it was real. He stopped for a moment on the road side to make up his mind about Samuel: he was not such a bad man after all. Personally, he was much more genial than the rest; often he cracked a joke or two centering around Swami's inactions and Swami took it as a mark of Samuel's personal regard for him. But there was no doubt that he treated pupils badly... His cane-skinned pupils' hands. Swami cast his mind about for an instance of this. There was none within his knowledge. Years and years ago he was reputed to have skinned the knuckles of a boy in the first standard and made him smear the blood on his face. No one had actually seen it. But year after year the story persisted among the boys...Swami's head was dizzy with confusion in regard to Samuel's character-whether he was good or bad, whether he deserved the allegations in the letter or not...Swamifelt an impulse to run home and beg his father to take back the letter. But father was an obstinate man. - Why did Swami fall into a dilemma? - Find out the word which means "gentle and cheerful" - Find the synonym of the word "faint" from the passage. - Find the antonym of the word "trust" from the passage. - Swami's father was an adamant man.
